Subject: Fwd: For Enrique to send to Debbie - Hunters Point Naval Shipyard weekly update - Public Meeting Feb. 8

Dear Debbie,

Here is a weekly update about the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard:

Hunters Point Naval Shipyard: On February 8, the Navy will host a community meeting about its actions to address the falsification of radiological data by Navy contractor Tetra Tech EC, Inc., at the Shipyard. The Navy is collecting and analyzing past data from Tetra Tech EC's radiological cleanup work at the Shipyard and is developing a plan for new sampling and analysis to address uncertainty about actual concentrations left behind after previous cleanup actions. The Navy will set up stations with posters and staff to answer questions from the public. EPA staff attending include Jackie Lane and David Yogi (Community Involvement), Lily Lee (Remedial Project Manager), John Chesnutt (Manager, Army-Navy Section). Representatives from the State of California Department of Toxic Substances Control will also participate. (Contact: Jackie Lane, x2-3236, Lily Lee, x7-4187)
